

Subject Index

- abbreviations 152, 153, 209–211
abstract section 196–197 example 199
    length 196
academic journals 41–43
Academic Search Premier (EBSCO Host) 18, 28, 46
active voice verbs 78, 86, 87, 92, 196
advantages of internet publishing software 252–253
APA style 4–5
Asian/Oriental 93
audience 27–28, 70

bandwagon fallacy 31 between and among 92
Bing 41, 49
Black and White 93 black and white fallacy 31
Black/African-American 93

College Board 2
common problems 84–86
    apostrophe use 84
    contractions 85 pronouns 85–86
common research questions 101 comparing results 173–174 confidentiality 138 connecting different aspects of results 171–172
counterarguments 116–117
credibility 5–6

databases 46–48
developing logical arguments 30–31, 117–120
developing your idea 108–113 exploring competing theories 111 filling in a gap 108–110 reviewing published work 112 development of paper 72

Effective Writing in Psychology: Papers, Posters, and Presentations, Third Edition.

Bernard C. Beins and Agatha M. Beins.

© 2021 John Wiley & Sons, Inc. Published 2021 by John Wiley & Sons, Inc.

- difference between popular and scholarly sources 27–29
  - audience 27–28
  - author 27
  - type of journal 28
- different research models 113
- different types of communication 6–8
  - internet publishing 8
  - oral communication 7
  - poster presentations 7–8
  - written communication 6
- disability and handicap* 93
- discussion section 59, 169–176

- editing 71–74
- effective communication 8–9
- effective wording 78–80
- either/or fallacy 31
- emotionally loaded terms 31
- ethical standards in research 256–257
- ethical writing 20–24
  - attempted paraphrase 23
  - paraphrase rewrite 23–24
  - plagiarism 20–22
- evaluating internet sources 31–37
- evaluating sources 29–31
- evaluating URLs 32–37

- false dichotomy fallacy 31
- faulty cause and effect fallacy 31
- female/male and woman/man* 93
- figures 159–164
  - connecting text and tables 162, 164
  - examples 161, 162, 163
- focal questions 13–16
- focus of paper 71–72
- focused research 15
- footnotes 198, 200
- formatting of manuscript 195–219
  - abbreviations 209–211
  - abstract 196–197, 199
  - appendices 198
  - capitalization 205–206
  - direct quotations 212
  - footnotes 198, 200
  - headings 200–204
  - indirect quotations 219
  - italics 207–208
  - manuscript pages, order of 202–203
  - notes 200
  - page header 199
  - punctuation 216–219
  - quotations 213–216
  - series 212
  - title page 198, 199

- generating a hypothesis 129–130
- girl and boy* 93
- Google 41, 49
- Google Scholar 31, 49
- grammar and style 76–78

- hasty generalization fallacy 31
- headings 200, 201–202, 203–204
- how to begin 9–10
- hypotheses 146–147

- implications of results 174–175
- inclusive language 81–83
- Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) 262–263
- Internet publication 247–254
  - capabilities with internet publishing 248
  - hyperlink to external source 250
  - hyperlink to material in your document 250–252
  - inserting images 252
  - saving Word manuscript for internet publishing 249–250
  - useful features of internet publishing software 253
  - word processing for internet processing 24–252

- introduction section 121–130
  - citing a quotation 124–125
  - citing an actual event 123
  - creating a fictional scenario 123
  - describing common occurrences 125
  - different approaches to starting the introduction 122–125
  - how to begin 126
  - identifying previous research 123
  - introducing the topic 122
  - presenting a statistic 124
  - reviewing the literature 127–128
- IRB proposal 257–262
  - abstract 257–258
  - benefits of study 260
  - description of subject
    - participation 258
  - informed consent form 261
  - risk in research 259–260
  - risk–benefit analysis 260
- italics 207–208
- LexisNexis 41
- library catalog, journal search 43
- library resources 41–46
  - academic journals 41–43
  - library books 43–44
  - reference librarians 44–45
  - search engines 41
  - subject research guides 45
- limitations of research 175–176
- literature search 39–41
  - internet searches 48–49
- locating relevant sources 16–19
  - Academic Search Complete//EBSCO Host 18
  - academic sources 16–17, 18
  - Google searches 18
  - nonacademic sources 17
  - Open Directory Project 18
  - PsycINFO 18
- logical fallacies 30–31
- manuscript headings 200, 201–202, 203–204
- marginally significant effects 150–151
- mechanics of writing 73–74
- method section 54–56, 131–144
  - apparatus 55, 140–142
  - demographics 134–135
  - design 143–144
  - important questions 56
  - materials 55, 140
  - nonhuman subjects 138
  - participant labels 133–135
  - participants 55, 132–138
  - procedure 55–56, 142–143
  - subject 55
- Native American/Indian* 93
- notes in manuscript 200
- numbers in APA style 165–166
- Online Writing Laboratory (OWL) 49, 64
- oral presentations 237–246
  - APA style 242
  - delivering your presentation 245–246
  - graphics in your presentation 244
  - guidelines 239–241
  - oral versus written communication 237–238
  - preparing for your talk 242–244
- order of manuscript pages 202–203
- organization of a paper 64–66, 72
  - credibility of sources 67–68
  - idea map 64–66
  - outline 64–66
  - paraphrasing 68–69, 71
  - quoting 68–69, 71
  - summarizing 68–69, 71
- organizing your writing 112–114
  - developing outlines 64–66, 114
  - using index cards 113–114

- p*-hacking 149
- page header 199
  - creating header in word processor 199
- passive voice verbs 86, 87, 196
- peer-reviewed open-source journals 32
- perspectives 114–117
- plurals 89–91
- poster sessions 228–230
  - attire at poster sessions 228–229
  - covering your poster 229–230
- posters 223–236
  - creating 230–236
  - visual presentations 225–227
  - visual versus written communication 234
- pre-research 14
- preliminary research 15
- primary sources 26
- professional writing 3–4
- PsycARTICLES 46
- PsycINFO 28, 31, 41, 42–43, 46, 47, 48
- publishing a poster on the internet 254
- punctuation 216–219
- quotations 204, 212–216
- reading a journal article 60
- recognizing multiple viewpoints 19–20, 114–117
- reference citations 177–193
  - multiple sources within parentheses 181
  - number of authors 179–180
  - order in reference list 181–182
  - personal communications 180–181
  - purpose 177–178
- reference format examples
  - order in reference list 183
- reference management software 24
- reference section 61
- reference types 184–193
  - books 185–186, 190
  - conference presentations 188, 192–193
  - encyclopedia entry 190
  - internet references 187, 189, 191–192
  - journal articles 184–185, 188, 190
  - newsletters 186, 193
  - personal communication 193
- references 177–193
  - alphabetizing authors' names 181–182
  - formatting with word processor 182
  - hanging indent 182
  - more than
    - 20 authors 189
  - multiple authors 180
  - one or two authors 179–180
- results section 56–58, 146–167
  - difference between results and discussion 164, 165
  - example of figure 57, 161, 162, 163
  - examples of what to present 148
  - hypotheses 146–147
  - important questions 58
  - presenting numbers in APA style 165–166
- revising 71–74
- search engines 42, 48
  - Bing 41, 49
  - Google 41, 49
  - Google Scholar 31, 49
  - Yahoo 32, 41
- secondary sources 26
- section headings 200, 201–202, 203–204
- sections of APA-style paper 4–5, 53–61
  - abstract 53
  - discussion 59
  - introduction 53–5
  - method 54–56
  - references 61
  - results 56–58

- seriation 212
- sex and gender* 92
- sexual preference and sexual orientation* 93
- since and because* 92
- specific words in APA style 92–93
- spelling 88
- statistics 95–104, 147–164
  - APA style for reporting statistics 151–154
  - commonly used statistical symbols 15, 152
  - effect size 101 elements of statistical reporting 98
  - examples of statistical reporting 100
  - format for presenting statistics 150
  - marginally significant effects 150–151
  - mean (average) 97
  - null hypothesis statistical testing (NHST) 149
  - standard deviation 97
  - statistical significance 99
  - tables 154–158
  - understanding statistics 95–96, 99
  - use of statistics 96–97
- steps in writing a term paper 109–110
- subjunctive mood 92
- summarizing results 170–171
- tables 154–158
  - creating with Word 157–158
  - examples 156, 157, 158
- technical language 83
- term paper 107–120
- tertiary sources 26
  - title page 198
- that and which* 92
- transitions across ideas 80
- types of research 15
- understanding journal articles 51–53
- verb forms 86–87
  - active voice 87
  - passive voice 87
- verb tense 89, 196
- while and although* 92
- who and that* 92
- Wikipedia 31
- Yahoo search 32, 41