

Chapter 1

Telling Time: Identifying the Verb and Choosing the Correct Tense

What time is it? You can answer that question by glancing at a clock or by looking at verbs. Yes, verbs — words that express action or state of being in the past, present, and future. In this chapter, you practice locating the verb and selecting the appropriate tense, or time, for each. You also tackle singular and plural forms, plugging the right one into every sentence.

The Questions You'll Work On

Here you find sentences that allow you to sharpen your verb skills in these ways:

- » Locating the verb(s) in a sentence
- » Selecting simple past-, present-, or future-tense verbs to fit the meaning of a sentence
- » Choosing progressive verb forms to indicate ongoing action
- » Placing past perfect, present perfect, or future perfect forms where they're needed
- » Finding the right tense to summarize speech and discuss literary or artistic works
- » Expressing unchangeable facts in present tense
- » Determining whether you need a singular or plural form

What to Watch Out For

Verb tense can be tricky, as can agreement — the matching of singular verbs to singular subjects and plural verbs to plural subjects. When you work through these questions, watch out for these issues:

- » Zero in on the time period(s) covered in the sentence.
- » Establish a timeline if more than one action or state of being is expressed in the sentence.

- » Stay in the same tense unless the meaning of the sentence justifies a shift.
- » Check whether the subject is singular or plural and match the verb to the subject.
- » Ignore words that resemble verbs but function as descriptions or nouns.

Locating the Verb

1–15 Identify the verb(s) in the sentence.
