

INDEX

A

Aaron, disciples of, 312
 Abraham, 112, 250
 Abyss, crossing the, 24–25, 240
 Action, as a garment, 59
 Adam, 243, 286, 302
Ahavat Yisrael, concept of, 131
 Akiva, Rabbi, story of, 183, 306
 Aleph Society, 272, 274
 Alertness, constant, 218–219, 318–319
 Angel of Death, 175
 Angel-like teachers, 317
 Angels: and the animal soul, 63, 257; bad, 311; creating, 146–147, 289, 296; knowledge of, 154; seeing, issue of, 169, 301; types of, 259; and the view of children in Judaism, 95, 269–270
 Anger, sin of, commentary on the, 204–205
 Animal soul, the, 62, 63–64, 65, 67, 257
 Appreciation, difficulty with, 224, 321
 Ark of the Covenant, 32
 Artificial means, being suspicious of, 210–211, 317
 Ascension: descent for the sake of, 67–68, 258–259; path of, 72, 261

Assimilation, losing Jews through, 126, 133, 279–280
Avodah Zarah 17a, 318
Avot, 316
 Awareness: of the Divine presence, 4, 229; inner growth required for, 5–6, 229–230; as a requisite for willfulness, 207

B

Baal ha Tanya (Rabbi Schneur Zalman of Liadi), 61, 94, 123, 150, 189, 238
 Baal Shem Tov (Rabbi Yisrael ben Eliezer), xxi, 7, 15, 19, 92, 163, 234
 Balance, previous, losing one's, 178–179, 304–305
Bava Metzia 33b, 314, 315
 Belief: acquiring, 51–52, 252–253; in the existence of God, 49, 251; the Torah not commanding, 54, 254
Berachot 60b, 181, 306
 Biology: definition of a Jew as beyond, 122–123, 278–279; realm of, contradiction of the, in physical laws, 114, 115
 Blasphemy, 16

Index

Bleeding demographically, 125, 279
Blessing After the Meals, 250
Blessing evil, capacity for, as well as good, 200, 312
Blessing God for both good and evil, 181, 305
Blessing or curse, accepting being a Jew as a, choice about, 134, 285
Blessings, saying, 6
Broken cord, tying the, binding man to God, 179–180, 305
Broken heart, wholeness of a, 189, 308

C

Candide (Voltaire), 307
Candle of God, The (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on faith, 254–255;
 on the soul, 256; on struggles, battles, and trials, 304; on suffering, 306–307, 309
Candle simile/metaphor, 244
Chaim Vital, Rabbi, 109
Challenge, constant, 175, 302
Channeling God, 150–152, 290–291
Character education, 212–214
Chariot, the (Merkavah), 122
Chesed, 147 Children: teaching, so what they learn is correct, 83, 265; view of, in Judaism, 95, 269–270; wisdom
 of, 74, 262
Christianity, long controversy with, result of the, 122
Climbing from level to level, 173–174, 301
Clinging to God, 6, 230
Code of Law. See Shulkhan Arukh
 (Code of Law) Commandments: careful performance of, as essential, 280; carrying out, 157, 293; details of,

 ceasing to be burdensome, 264;
 weighing Torah against, 145–146,
 288. See also mitzvah/mitzvot
Commercialized mysticism, 166–167
Communion with God, 212
Comparing people, basis for, 82–83, 264–265
Complacency, 186
Concealment of God, 20–21
Connection: to God, permanent, 42, 248; to the Jewish family, as beyond choice, 119, 277; of the Jews with the Torah and the Torah with God, 211–212; between the Kabbalah and Talmud, 167–168, 300; to Torah, 291; with the Torah, many ways to a, 138, 286
Consciousness: of Divinity, 32, 243– 244; extent of, of God's presence, 28, 242; level of, for participation in mitzvot, 142
Constant challenge, 175, 302
Contemplating God, 3–7, 227–231
Continuity, concern for, 111–112, 274
Contradictions, logical, and faith,
 52, 253
Creation: continuous, 10, 26, 42–43, 240–241, 248–249; making sense of, 187–188, 307; purpose of, 32–33, 68, 187
Creatures, defining, 312 Crisis, passing through some sort of, as often necessary, 186–187, 306–307
Curiosity, 154
Curse or blessing, accepting being a Jew as a, choice about, 134, 285

D

David and Goliath, xvii
David, King, 151

Index

Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur), 163
Dear Son to Me, A (Steinsaltz), 279
 Deism, 42
 Delight (oneg), experiencing, 128
 Demographic decline, 125, 279 Demons: thoughts giving birth to, 199, 311–312; as a type of angel, 259
 Denying God, paradox involving, 20
Derash (exegesis), 167
 Desargues' theorem, 254, 320
 Descent, for the sake of ascension, 67–68, 258–259
 Destiny, of the estranged, 132–133, 283 Development of the world, darkness requisite for, 23–24, 239
 Diaspora, in the, 133, 279, 283, 284
 Distortions, straightening out the, 177, 304
 Divine commandments. See Mitzvah/ mitzvot
 Divine essence, 10, 232
 Divine flow, vi
 Divine light, 142–143, 158
 Divine planning process, participating in, 152, 291
 Divine presence. See Shekkinah
 (Divine presence)
 Divine soul, the, 62, 64, 65, 67, 220
 Divine test, 55, 254–255
 Divine Unity, 34, 37, 38, 156, 246 Divine Wisdom, 140, 141. See also Torah, the Divine work, task of, becoming absorbed in the, 72–73, 261
 Divinity: consciousness of, 32, 243–244; failing to distinguish the instruments of, 148; seeing, issue
 of, 238
 Doubt, as always present, 51, 252

Drugs, being suspicious of, 210–211, 317
Dybbuk, 199

E

Ecclesiasties 12:2, 158
 Ecclesiasties 12:6, 179
 Ecclesiasties, book of, 74, 179, 262
 Effort: cessation of, 265; questioning if there is compensation for,
 85–86, 265–266
 Egotism, 149
 Egyptians, ancient, 206
Ein Sof (Infinite One), meaning of,
 239. See also God
 Elazar ben Durdia, Rabbi, 214–215
 Elijah the prophet, 203, 312, 313
 Elisha, 151
 Entropy, law of, 114, 115
 Esau, 62
Essential Talmud, The (Steinsaltz), excerpt from, on the nature of the Torah, 287
 Estranged, the, destiny of, 132–133, 283
Etz Chayyim 50:2, 62
 Eve, 25, 286
 Everything is for the best, 183–184, 306
 Evil, 193–206, 309–312; blessing
 God for good and, 181, 305;
 capacity to bless, as well as good, 200, 312; existence of, 190; and hope, 191; as a parasite, 194–195, 310; as something that must be fought, 195–197, 310–311; as a tool of good, 309; transforming, into good, 199, 312; ultimate judgment of, 159; understanding, 193–194, 309

Index

- Evil impulse: after defeating the, 198, 311; provocations of the, suffering more from the, 188–189
- Evil inclination: greater, 175–176; of idolatry, 241, 251, 282; struggle with, 197–198, 311
- Exile, 101, 129, 283
- Existence, struggle of, discovering harmony in the, 191–192, 309
- Exodus: essence of the, 3–4; meaning of the, 102; miracle of the, 101
- Exodus 20:2, 54
- Exodus 24:7, 48
- Exodus 33:20–23, 13
- Fooling oneself, 97, 270–271
- Forgetting: to seek God, 22; what was known, 205, 313–314
- Forgiveness, concept of, 16–17
- Freedom: elementary meaning of, 102, 272; meaning of, in terms of having a life goal, 103, 272; paradox involving, 120; spiritual, 101–102, 271; true, attaining, 100–101, 271
- Freud, S., 12
- “From Childhood to Old Age”
(Steinsaltz), 280
- Functioning, higher level of, rising to a, 161–162, 296

F

- Faith, 47–55, 251–254; as an inheritance, 50, 252; as the key, 50–51, 252; path of, 47–48, 251;
power of, 49–50, 252; way to, 53, 254
- Fake teachers, 212–214, 317–318
- Falling and rising, 174, 175, 302
- Family: finding one’s, to which one belongs, 119–120, 277; real, but not perfect, 118, 277; way of moving together as a, Judaism as, 120–121, 278
- Family ties, 117, 276
- Fear of God: genuine, 45, 250;
having a, because one feels him, 45–46, 250–251
- Festivals: as internal events, 82, 264;
and spiritual development, 90
- Finding God: adventure of, 26, 241; seeking and, 21–22
- Finding one’s purpose, importance
of, 69, 259
- Focusing on God, 6, 230
- Following God, decision of, 3, 227–228

G

- Galut Bavel*, 283
- Gaon of Vilna, 299
- Garden of Eden, 72, 304
- Garments of the soul, 59, 255
- Genesis 25:23, 62
- Genesis 42:12, 273
- Gevurah*, 147
- Gift, special, each person having a, 69–70, 259
- Goal: of always aiming for greater heights, 91–92, 268; of life, great happiness is not a, 99–100, 271; of one’s own, having a, 103, 272
- God: as an actuality, not an abstraction, 6–7, 230–231; as always present, 33–34, 244–245; first emanation from, 239; holding dual conceptions of, instead of pocketing, 17, 235–236; infantile images of, 48; no before or after in, 11, 232–233; nothing other than, 10–11, 232; reaching out by, 40–41, 247; realizing nothing can occur without, 15–16, 234–235;

Index

- seeing that there is no large or small to, 11, 233; as that which cannot be grasped, 9–10, 231; those who have not found, 73, 261–262
- Golden Calf, the, 112
- Good: evil as a tool of, 309; transforming evil into, 199, 312
- Good and bad deeds, as neither complementary nor opposites, 159, 294
- Good and bad qualities, as not absolute, 217, 318
- Good and evil: blessing God for, 181, 303; capacity to bless, 200, 312; struggle between, greatness of man stems from the, 198
- Good teachers, 212, 317
- “Good vs. Evil” (Steinsaltz), 310–311
- Grace After Meals, 6, 249
- Gratitude: acts of, to God, allowing nothing to interfere with, 44–45, 249–250; simple emotion of, 43–44, 249
- Greatness of God: contemplating the, 5, 229; difficulty understanding the, 11
- Guide to Jewish Prayer, A* (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on contemplating God, 230; on faith, 253; on the inconceivable God, 235–236
- Guilt, degree of, as proportional to one’s level of knowledge, 207–208, 315
- H
- Hadassah International, educators from, program for, xix
- Halakkah (Jewish law), 147, 149, 246, 281, 298, 301. See also Shulchan Arukh (Code of Law)
- Hanegbi, Y., xviii
- Hanukkah, 161
- Happiness: great, as not the goal of life, 99–100, 271; greatest, is the pleasure of being alive, 71–72, 261; pursuit of, 99–103, 271–272
- Harmony, discovering, in the struggle of existence, 191–192, 309
- Harvest, festival of, 90
- Hasidism: emphasis in, on direct communication, xx–xxi; as a form of applied Kabbalah, 166, 231, 299; founder of, xxi; questioning, 6–7
- Heaven: and climbing from level to level, 174; concept of the Torah as, 212, 317; gateway to, issue of a, 210, 211; gladness in, 55, 254–255; and God’s greatness, 5; living for the sake of, 219–220, 319; path to, 261; and scripture, 288; Torah study for the sake of, 148–149, 289–290; the tzaddikim in, 11
- Hebrew, 118
- Hell, 191, 192, 210
- Heresy, 315
- Hidden Law, 166
- Hiddenness of God, 19, 236
- Hide-and-seek analogy, 20, 22, 237
- Higher Power, recognition of a, 52–53, 253
- Hillel the Elder, 93, 312, 313
- Holiness, perception of, 12, 81, 264
- Holocaust, the, 126
- Holy Ark, 151
- Holy Land, 78, 263
- Holy Temple, the: annex of, one’s life as an, 93, 268; destruction of, 130–131, 282–283
- Home, truth of being, 121, 278
- Hope, 188, 190–191, 307

Index

Human creativity, difference between Divine Creation and, 25–26 Human progress, chart of, as not simple, 88–89, 267
 Humility, 262
 Huxley, A., 210

I

“I” and “Mine” words, as meaningless, 16, 235
 Ideology of evil, 195–196
 Idolatry: avoiding, 221–222, 320;
 choosing death over, 110–111,
 274; inclination toward, 241, 251,
 282
 Ignorance, issue of, 266–267
 Imagination, contending with one’s, 222–223, 320
In the Beginning (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on the nature of the Torah, 287–288; on spiritual direction,
 318, 321; on Torah study, 289–
 290 Inconceivable God, 9–17, 231–236
 Infinite light of God, 14–15, 234 Infinite Light (Ohr Ein Sof), meaning of, 239
 Infinite One (Ein Sof), meaning of,
 239. See also God Infinite power of God, expression of the, 24, 239–240
 Infinity: bridge to, 292; contemplating, 228; endless activity implied by, never growing weary of, 321; imagining, 320; implication of, 302; meaning of, 231; perception of holiness and, 12; the Torah comes to man across, 137–138, 285–286;
 walking the path to, 95, 270
 Inheritance, faith given as an, 50, 252

Inspiration, source of, 34, 245
 Instability, necessity of, 178–179, 304–305
 Intention. See Kavvanah (intention) Interest, having, in almost everything, 208–209, 315–316
 Intimacy with God, 37–46, 246–251
 Investigating, specifically, 204, 313
 Isaac, 112
 Isaac Luria, Rabbi, 7, 160
 Isaiah, 9
 Israel: attitude toward the state of, 275; challenge of, 222;
 concentration of holiness in, 81;
 concept of, meaning of the, 114, 275; continual resanctification of, 264; dark side of, 251; as an entity, 121–122, 278; holiness of,
 and the destruction of the Temple, 130–131, 282–283; looking to,
 as the answer, issue of, 133–134; loss of traditions in, 284; and the path of faith, 47, 48; remnant of, protecting, 123–124, 279; in a state of deprivation and suffering, 131–132, 283

J

Jacob, 62, 112
 Jerusalem, welcoming the Holy Ark back to, 151
 Jewish authorities, 168–169, 300
 Jewish community, defining,
 109, 273
 Jewish, defining, 107–115, 272–226
 “Jewish Demography: An Alarming Trend” (Steinsaltz), 279–280
 Jewish education: as lacking, 126, 280; need for, 128–129
 Jewish essence, regaining the,
 129–130, 281–282

Index

- Jewish family, the: described,
117–124, 276–279; in jeopardy,
125–134, 279–285
- Jewish jokes, having leaders who don't understand, 128–129, 281
- Jewish knowledge, level of, 133
- Jewish law. See Halakkah (Jewish law)
- Jewish leaders, educated, need for, 128–129, 281
- Jewish teachers, willing, need for, 128
- Job 19:26, 54
- Joseph Karo, Rabbi, 168
- Joy: key to ensuring, 50–51, 252; of performing mitzvah/mitzvot, 164;
season of, 90; source of, 34, 245
- Joys, of the next world, 192, 309
- Judah and Tamar, 49
- Judaism: accepting, as a better life, 224; the body and physical world in, view of, 220–221, 319–320;
children in, view of, 95, 269;
converting to, 277; hiding the mystical aspect of, 165–166; idea of Heaven in, 317; importance of the Temple to, 130–131; kosher-centered, 127, 280–281; as the Law and a life framework, 276;
as a religion, 119, 120–121, 277, 278; return to, 285; teaching, issue of, 126; two branches of, 313; uniting element of, 108, 272–273
- Judgment, 77–78, 204, 263
- K
- “Kabbalah for Today” (Steinsaltz), 230–231
- Kabbalah, 165–169, 297–301; definition of, 297–298; denying the existence of, 165–166, 298–299; Hasidism as a form of applied, 166, 231, 299; needed
- knowledge of, 169, 300–301;
and Talmud, 167–168, 288, 300;
writings in, 62
- Kavvanah* (intention): demand for, 6; importance of, 159–160, 160–161, 230, 295–296; and the struggle with evil inclination, 197
- Kelipah* (husk), 309
- Key, special, to the private door of the Torah, 75–76, 262
- Kiddush ritual, the, 281
- 2 Kings 3:11–15, 151
- Knowing God, 27–35, 241–245
- Knowing ourselves, way of, 114–115, 276
- Knowledge: degree of guilt as proportional to one's level of, 207–208, 315; impression made by, as something that cannot be effaced, 205, 313–314; needed, of the Kabbalah, 169, 300–301;
pretending, 213, 318; profane, 209, 210; sufficient, absorbing, 206, 314
- Kosher-centered Judaism, 127, 280–281
- Kotzker Rebbe (Menachem Mendel of Kotzk), 41, 49, 247–248, 308
- Kurzweil, M., 245
- L
- Lamentations, book of, 185, 306
- Law, the: as abstract, 141; Judaism as, and a life framework, 276
- Laws. See specific laws
- Leader, true, 209, 316
- Learning and teaching, 203–215, 312–318
- Learning from the Tanya* (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on evil, 312; on the inconceivable God, 234–235; on

Index

Learning from the Tanya (Continued)
 intimacy with God, 248,
 250–251; on learning and teaching, 316; on looking for God, 237–238, 239; on suffering, 305,
 308, 309; on Torah study, 291–292; on understanding mitzvah/mitzvot, 292, 293
Lechah Dodi, 168
 Leibniz, 109, 190, 307
 Lenin, V., 88
 Levi Yitzchak of Berditchev, Rabbi, 91, 176, 295, 302–303
 Life: as not being a vicarious activity, 133–134, 284–285; questioning,
 74–75, 262; real battles of, 218, 318; spiritual, measure of the, 77,
 262–263; views of, 79–81
 Light of God, infinite, 14–15, 234
Long Shorter Way, The (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on contemplating God, 228, 229; on the soul, 258;
 on spiritual progress, 263
 Looking for God, 19–26, 236–241
 Love, of one's fellow Jews, 131 Loving God, awakening the natural impulse for, 44, 249

M

Maggid M'esharim, 168
 Maggid of Mezritch, 181, 209, 316
 Maimon, S., 209
 Maimonides (Rambam), 78, 130, 209
 Man, chief work of, 93–94, 269
 Mantras, being suspicious of, 210–211
 Marijuana, 317
 Mastery learning, 214
 Meditating: approach to, 228; on the Divine, 4–5, 229

Meizlish of Krakow and Warsaw,
 Rabbi, 182–183
 Memory, issue of, 205, 313–314
 Menachem Mendel of Kotzk, Rabbi (Kotzker Rebbe), 41, 49, 247–
 248, 308
Merkavah (the Chariot), 122, 177 Message, very clear, always transmitting a, 31
 Metaphor, trapped by, 147–148, 289
 Midrash, language of the, 187 Miracle of the Seventh Day, The (Steinsaltz), excerpt from, on intimacy with God, 249–250
 Mishnah, the, 139, 152, 168
Mitzvah/mitzvot: attention to detail when performing, 313; and avoiding idolatry, 221; awareness in undertaking performance of,
 4; to believe in God, defining,
 53; carrying out, ways of, 138;
 fulfillment of, more than, 212; immersion in, 241; importance of, 158–159, 294; importance of the Temple to, 130, 131; intended use of, 220; joy in the performance of, 164; and Kabbalah, 298; keeping all, is not required of every person, 319; to love lower creatures, 313;
 neglecting to perform, purposely, 206–207; as part of the whole, 157–158, 293–294; participation in, level of consciousness for, 142; performing, as best one can, 156–157, 292–293; reason for doing, 138; as a special key, 76; spiritual essence of, 162–163, 296;
 strength and capacity of, 160–161, 295–296; as a symphonic whole, 163–164, 297; three parts of, 161, 296; of the Torah, 138;
 and Torah study, 145, 288, 290;

Index

and transgressions, issue of, 159; understanding, 155–164, 292–297;
as a vehicle for Divine Unity, 155–156, 292; what is offered to the person who occupies himself
with, 30
Moses, 9, 10, 13, 22, 23, 112–113, 204–205, 262
Moses ben Maimon, Rabbi (Rambam/Maimonides), 78, 130, 209 Moses ben Nachman, Rabbi (Ramban/Nachmonides), 112, 140, 218
Moving, but staying in the same place, 84–85, 265
Mystical dimension of the Torah. See Kabbalah

N

Nachman of Bratslav, Rabbi, 37, 177, 230, 246, 307
Nefesh (vital soul), 64
Neshamah (Divine soul), 64
Nisell, T., 279

O

Obligations, 113, 127, 153, 275
Obsession with God, 107–108, 272
Obstinacy, persistence and, 112–113, 274–275
Obvious, the, recognizing, 31–32, 243
Ohr Ein Sof (Infinite Light), meaning
of, 239
On Being Free (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on faith, 251; on the inconceivable God, 234; on the Jewish family in jeopardy, 284; on the pursuit of happiness, 271; on searching for one's purpose, 262;
on struggles, battles, and trials, 305

On the Road with Rabbi Steinsaltz (Kurzweil), excerpts from: on faith, 254; on the Jewish family, 278; on the Jewish family in jeopardy, 280;
on Kabbalah, 298–299, 299–300,
300–301; on knowing God,
245; on learning and teaching,
317, 318; on spiritual direction,
320; on spiritual progress, 265;
on struggles, battles, and trials,
304–305

Oneg (delight), experiencing, 128

Opening the Tanya (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on evil, 309;
on intimacy with God, 249; on Kabbalah, 297–298; on repentance, 266, 267, 268, 270–271; on the soul, 256–257;
on struggles, battles, and trials,
303–304; on suffering, 305,
307; on Torah study, 290; on understanding mitzvah/mitzvot, 292–293, 296; on what it means to be Jewish, 273

Optimists, Jews as, 109–110, 273, 307

Ortega y Gasset, J., 113

P

Pain and sadness, difference between, understanding the, 189–190, 308
Pains, God needs our, 186, 306
Paradox: confronting a, 20, 236–237; of consciousness, 28; of creation, 240, 241; and faith, 52, 253;
involving freedom, 120
Passover, 90
Passover Haggadah, The (Steinsaltz), excerpt from, on intimacy with God, 249
Pastor role, 107

Index

Patriarchs, 122
 Peace of mind, 99, 271
 Pebble metaphor, xvii
 Penitent, true, 176, 303 Perception of God: limitation on our,
 22–23, 238–239; as the One and Only, 233
 Perception of holiness, 12, 81, 264
 Permitting God to enter, 41, 247–248
 Persistence and obstinacy, 112–113, 274–275
Pesbat (literal meaning), 167
 Pharaoh, 16
 Physical laws: biological realm in, contradiction of the, 114, 115; universe that transcends, repentance in a, 96–97, 270 Physical world, genuine spiritual achievement through the body and the, 220–221, 319–320
Pirkei Avot, 123, 152–153 Power: of faith, 49–50, 252; of prophecy, 313; of repentance, 175–176, 302–303
 Power of God: infinite, expression of, 24, 239–240; instrument of the, 157
 Prayer: and kavvanah, 6; as a time of battle between mighty forces, 177–178, 304; as a trial against oneself, 178, 304
 Pregnant times, meaning of, 224–225
 Presence of God, 189; in the, 29–30, 242; closeness of the, 38–39, 246–247; conscious of the, extent of, 28, 242; constant, 37–38, 246. See also Shekkinah (Divine presence)
 Priest role, 107, 108
 Profanity, mark of, leaving a, 303–304

Progress, making, 175, 302
 Prophecy, power of, 313
 Proverbs 20:27, 244
 Psalms 19:1, 73
 Psalms 94:12, 200
 Purity of heart: ability to see dependent on, 78–79, 263; and temptation, 188–189, 307, 311
 Purpose, searching for, 67–76, 69, 258–262, 259

Q

Qualities, specific, emphasis not on, but on the right measure, 217, 318
 Quint, E., xix

R

Rabbah, 204
 Rabbi, defining, 214–215, 318
 Rabi, I., 154
 Rambam (Maimonides), 78, 130, 209
 Ramban (Rabbi Moses ben Nachman), 112, 140, 218 Reality: ceasing to be, 23; existing beyond the apparent limits of, 16–17, 235; overlooked, revelation as the recognition of an, 32–33, 244; transformed, 238; when performing mitzvah/mitzvot, 158, 294
 Reaping, festival of, 90
 Rebecca, 62, 112
 Re-creation, looking for God in the, 25–26
 Redemption, 130
 Reincarnation, 70–71, 260
 Relationship with God, type of, 39–40, 247
 Religion, turning to, personal account of, 315–316

Index

- Remez* (hint), 167
- Repentance (teshuvah), 87–97,
266–271; and contemplating God's greatness, 229, 230; essence and process of, 320; essential component of, 321; power of,
175–176, 302–303; shock of, 88, 266–267; starting point of, 245;
story of, 214–215
- Restatement of Rabbinic Civil Law*,
A (Quint), xix
- Revealed Law, 166
- Revelation: and consciousness of Divinity, 32, 243–244; and Creation, 240; and existence, 23;
God reaching out to men as, 25;
as the recognition of an overlooked reality, 32–33, 244
- Revolt of the Masses, The* (Ortega y Gasset), 113
- Role models, 213
- Rosenberg, D., xix
- Ruach* (spirit), 64
- S
- Sabbath (Shabbat), 127–128, 151, 220, 281
- Sadness: pain and, difference between, understanding the, 189–190, 308; strategy to banish, 190, 308
- Saints, calculations of who are, belong to God, 77–78, 263. See also Tzaddik/tzaddikim
- 1 Samuel 17:40, vi
- 2 Samuel 6:14, 151
- Sarah, 112
- Schneur Zalman of Liadi, Rabbi (Baal ha Tanya), 61, 94, 123, 150, 189, 238
- Scholarly guilt, 207
- Science, study of, 209–210, 316
- Scripture: basic ingredient of, 299; Heaven and, 288; proper relation to, 149–150, 290; studying, with God, 152–153, 291
- Secular weekend, 127, 128
- Seeking: few, 22, 237–238; and finding God, 21–22
- Sefer Etz Chayyim* (Rabbi Chaim Vital), 109
- Sefer Yitzirah*, 309
- Sefirah/sefirot*: diagram of the, 147; Kabbalah speaks of, 298; proper functioning of the, world dependent on, 249; and questioning which soul will rule
the, 64–65
- Self-deception, capacity for, 83–84, 265
- Self-nullification, 150–151
- Sensory images, removing, that prevent seeing, 27, 241
- Setbacks, experiencing, 174, 302
- Shabbat (the Sabbath), 127–128, 151, 220, 281
- Shabta, Y., xviii
- Shavuot, 90
- Shaw, S., xviii
- Shekkinah* (Divine presence):
awareness of, 4, 229; dwelling place for the, 93, 268; injury inflicted on the, 131; revelation of the, 32, 243–244; telling about the, in the Zohar, 7, 189; vehicle of the, 157. See also Presence of God
- Shema*, prayer of the, 158–159
- Shimon bar Yochai, Rabbi, 7
- Shulkhan Arukh* (Code of Law):
following the, as not enough, 164, 297; instruction of the, on how to

Index

- Shulkhan Arukh (Continued)*
 wake in the morning, 176–177;
 and the mark of profanity, 303–304; writer of the, 168
- Simcha Bunim, Rabbi, 29, 30
- Simple Words* (Steinsaltz), xx, 232–233
- Sinners, calculations of who are, belong to God, 77–78, 263
- Sins: knowledge of one's, result of, 89–90, 267; realizing that there is more than one viewpoint toward, 204–205, 313; transforming one's,
 91, 268; of an uneducated person, 206–207, 314
- Sitra achra* (the other side), 309
- Slavery, 100, 101, 129
- Sod* (secret or esoteric truth), 167, 297
- Soul restoring, 73
- Soul, the, 59–65, 255–258;
 aspiration to perfect, 79–81;
 clothed in the blood of man, 59–60, 255; clothing of, 59, 255, 293; definition of, 64; determining rule within, 64–65; five levels of, 64, 257–258; Kabbalistic concept about, 166; levels within levels in, 64, 258; liberation of, 241; may repeat a lifetime, 70–71, 260; of one person can grow into a unity with another soul, 71, 261; similes for, 60–61, 255–256; souls within,
 62–63, 64–65, 256–257, 258; of the Torah, 298; uniqueness of,
 314; victory of, over itself, 61–62, 256
- Speaking with God, 34–35, 245
- Speech, as a garment, 59, 60
- Spirit soul, the, 64
- Spiritual achievement, genuine, 220–221, 319–320
- Spiritual awakening, greatest hindrance to, 186
- Spiritual decline, slipping into, 223
- Spiritual deterioration, 303–304
- Spiritual development, stages of, 90–91, 267–268
- Spiritual dimension of the Torah. See
 Kabbalah
- Spiritual direction, 217–225, 318–321
- Spiritual essences, conservation of, 162–163, 296
- Spiritual freedom, 101–102, 271
- Spiritual malady, symptom of the, 133, 284
- Spiritual progress, 77–86, 262–266
- Spirituality, defining, 68–69, 259
- Spring, festival of, 90
- Standing before God, constantly,
 3–4, 228
- Steinsaltz, A.: on continuity, 274; described, xv–xvi; documentary about, xix; on experience with zoology, 272; on his childhood, 266–267; on learning and teaching, 208–209, 315–316;
 sources of pebbles from, xvii–xx.
See also specific works by Rabbi Steinsaltz
- Stiff-necked people, 112–113, 274–275
- Strife of the Spirit, The* (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on the nature of the Torah, 286; on the pursuit of happiness, 271; on searching for one's purpose, 261; on the soul,
 255; on Torah study, 289
- Struggles, battles, and trials, 173–180, 301–305
- Success, pitfalls of, 223, 320
- Suffering, 181–192, 223, 305–309;
 as a test, 184, 306; thanking God for, 182–183, 305; and understanding the difference

Index

between pain and sadness, 189–190, 308
Sukkah 52a, 175
Sukkot, 90
Sustaining the world, continuously,
25–26, 240–241

T

Ta'anit 22a, 203
Ta'ivah, as unexplainable, 187
Tales of Rabbi Nachman of Bratslav,
The (Steinsaltz), 230, 246
Talmud: as a hobby, 208; the Kabbalah and, 167–168, 288, 300; studying the Torah according to, 153; taking special pains to study the, 301. See also specific passages Talmud and the Scholar, The (documentary film), xix
Tanya, the: concept developed in, 150–151; introductory essay on, excerpt from, xx. See also specific works by Rabbi Steinsaltz on the Tanya
Teachers: fake, students knowing,
212–214, 317–318; good, 212,
317; as role models, 213
Teaching and learning, 203–215, 312–318
Temple, the, destruction of,
130–131, 185, 282–283
Temptation: being more prone to, 188–189, 307; susceptibility to, differences in, 198–199, 311
Ten Commandments, 140
Ten Utterances, continuous “saying”
of, 43
Tension, tightening the, importance
of, 223, 321

Teshuvah (Steinsaltz), excerpts from:
on Kabbalah, 300, 301; on Torah study, 289. See also Repentance (teshuvah)
Test, suffering as a, 184, 306
Thanking God, for suffering, 182–183, 305
Thanksgiving, 250
Theology, official, of the Jewish people, 166–167, 299–300
Thirteen Petalled Rose, The (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on contemplating God, 228, 229–230;
on evil, 310, 311–312; on faith, 252–253, 254; on the flow of Divine plenty, vi; importance of,
xvii; on the inconceivable God, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235; on
intimacy with God, 246–247,
248–249; on the Jewish family,
277, 278; on the Jewish family in jeopardy, 281, 282–283; on knowing God, 242, 243, 244–245; on learning and teaching, 313, 314, 316, 317; on
looking for God, 236–237, 240–241; on the nature of the Torah, 286–287, 288; on repentance, 267, 268, 269;
on searching for one’s purpose, 258–259, 260, 261, 262; on the soul, 255–256, 257–258;
on spiritual direction, 318–320,
321; on spiritual progress,
262–263, 264–265, 265–266;
on struggles, battles, and trials, 301, 302, 303, 304; on Torah study, 288, 289, 290–291; on understanding mitzvah/mitzvot, 293–294, 295, 296, 297; on what it means to be Jewish, 272 Thought, as a garment, 59, 60

Index

- Thoughts giving birth to demons, 199, 311–312
- Tikkun Leil Shavuot*, prayers followed on the, orders of, 168
- Tikkun olam*, to effect, 151
- Tikkun*, possibility of, 191
- Time: juncture between great blocks of, when one must not sleep, 224–225, 321; significance of, 235
- Tisha b'Av, 306
- Tizvi Hirsch of Ziditzov, Rabbi, 6–7
- Torah scholar, 122
- Torah study, 145–154, 288–292;
with Baal Shem Tov, 234–235; basis of, 298; direct communion with God during, 212; and the fear of God, 250; immersion in, 241; and mitzvah/mitzvot, 145,
288, 290; for the sake of Heaven, 148–149, 289–290; and the study of science, 209, 210; that creates an angel, 146–147, 289; weighing, against all the commandments, 145–146, 288; what is offered to the person who occupies himself with, 30; why God wants Jews to be involved in, 153–154, 291–292
- Torah, the: all levels of, revealed, 146, 288; as always expanding, 140, 287; comes to man across the infinite, 137–138, 285–286;
comprehension of, 293;
connecting with, many ways of, 138, 286; connection of the Jews with, and the Torah with God, 211–212; descent of, so it can be grasped by mortals, 140–142, 287; different ways of dealing with, 167; does not command a belief in God, 54, 254; essence of the, 290; following, all that is required in, 222; guilt of one who knows, 207, 208; as Heaven, concept of, 212, 317; immediately after the receiving of, 112; learning all of, as not required of every person, 219, 319; letters of the, 259, 260; as like a tale, 139–140, 286–287; many sides of, sages well aware of the, 218, 318; and mitzvah/mitzvot, 138, 156; nature of, 137–143, 285–288; and one's purpose, 259, 260; power of, 142–143, 288; readiness to accept,
277; receiving of, time of the, 90;
relating to, for its own sake, 142, 287–288; spiritual dimension of, 297–298; time prior to the giving of, 48; vessel of, capacity to become, 146
- Tragic experience, passing through some sort of, as necessary, 186–187, 306–307
- Transcendent, the, lack of words to describe, 13–14, 234
- Transformation: of evil into good, 199, 312; knowledge of one's sins resulting in, 89–90, 267; nature of, 176; of one's sinful deeds, 91, 268
- Transgressions, mitzvah/mitzvot and,
issue of, 159
- Transition, instability of, 178–179, 304–305
- Truth, the: of being home, 121, 278;
learning, importance of, 219, 319;
possessing, 177; of things, 194
- Two souls within the soul:
identified, 62, 256; and questioning which will rule, 64–65, 258; struggle between,
62–63, 256–257

Index

Tzaddik/tzaddikim: doubtful thoughts about, 242; in Heaven, 11; limitations of, 204; on prayer, 114; and seeing divinity, 238;

souls of the, 122; stories of, 13–14, 45, 69, 159–160, 186; and transforming evil into good, 199;
on the way to faith, 53

Tzedakah, giving, expression
of, 152

Tzemach Tzedek, 53

Tzimtzum, defined, 239

U

Unanswered problems, 52, 253

Understanding the Tanya (Steinsaltz), excerpts from: on evil, 311; on faith, 252; on the inconceivable
God, 235; on intimacy with God, 246, 247–248; on the Jewish family, 278; on knowing God, 242, 243–244; on learning and teaching, 312–313, 313–314; on looking for God, 237, 238–239, 241; on repentance, 267–268, 269, 270; on searching for one's purpose, 262; on spiritual progress, 265; on struggles, battles, and trials, 302–303; on understanding mitzvah/mitzvot, 294, 295–296

Uneducated person, sins of an, 206–207, 314

Unity: among Jews, 108,
272–273; Divine, 34, 37, 38,
156, 246

Unspeakable, the, speaking about,
12–13, 233

Uphaval, repentance as, 87–88, 266

V

Viewpoint, realizing that there is more than one, 204–205, 313

Vilna Gaon, 299

Vision, limited, 79, 263

Vital soul, the, 64

Voltaire, 109, 191, 307

W

We Jews (Steinsaltz), excerpts from:

on contemplating God, 228; on faith, 251, 252, 253; on the inconceivable God, 233; on the Jewish family, 276, 277, 278–279; on the Jewish family
in jeopardy, 281–282, 283,
284–285; on knowing God, 241;
on looking for God, 239–240; on repentance, 269–270; on what it means to be Jewish, 272–273, 274–275, 276

Weekends, 127–128, 281

Weeping before God, 185–186, 306

Weitz, M., xix

Wholeness, of a broken heart, 189, 308

Wisdom: of children, 74, 262; of God, 206, 290. See also Divine Wisdom

Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, 276

Work: Divine, task of, becoming absorbed in the, 72–73, 261; of man, chief, 93–94, 269

World, our: continually sustaining and developing, looking for God in, 25–26; development of, darkness required for, 23–24; God as intrinsic to, 28–29, 242

Index

Worry, freeing the mind of, 203–204, 312–313

Worth of God, 17

Wrestler, skill of a, using the,
94–95, 269

Y

Yisrael ben Eliezer, Rabbi (Baal Shem Tov), xxi, 7, 15, 19, 92, 163, 234

Yochanan ben Zakkai, Rabban, 45

Yom Kipper (Day of Atonement), 163

Yom tov, 151

Z

Zeitlin, H., 212

Zohar: and the Divine essence, 10; story in the, involving the animal soul, 64; telling about the Divine presence in the, 7, 189; and the three things connected, 212

Zohar Chai (“The Living Zohar”), 166

Zusha of Anipoli, Rabbi, 181, 305