about the writer

Judy Wesalo Temel has spent her career in the municipal bond business, on both the broker/dealer and issuer sides. She worked seventeen years at Goldman, Sachs & Co. after stints at Lehman Brothers and the Office of the Comptroller of the City of New York. She brings her extensive industry experience and insight to this book.

Wesalo Temel's perspectives on credit quality has influenced decisions on underwriting and trading, both on the dealer side and on the asset management side, and has advised issuers on many aspects of their transactions, including the rating agency process. She has worked with many different types of issuers, ranging from the largest states, cities, and their authorities to the most prestigious institutions of higher education and health care. She also understands the needs of the issuer, having served on the boards of several large nonprofit agencies.

A graduate of Cornell University, Wesalo Temel holds an MPA from New York University and has spoken and written widely about many aspects of the business.
